

“My Dad instilled upon me at an early age the importance of philanthropy.

I owe much to the great experience I had as a student at UVM’s Grossman School of Business and, upon graduating, really wanted to pay it forward.

The question then became not if I would give, but how? A financial planner by trade, I asked myself what makes the most sense from both an ease of giving and a tax planning perspective. The answer? Appreciated stock.

I give appreciated stock to UVM every year and most recently split my gift between the UVM Fund, the Grossman School of Business, and the Prism Center. It’s a natural thing.”

—Tom Dettre ’88

CONSIDER A GIFT OF STOCK TO UVM

Gifts to the University of Vermont of appreciated stock, bonds, or mutual funds held for longer than one year can offer a wealth of benefits. It’s a smart and simple way to Move Mountains. For more information, please contact:
